Japanese Corporate Law Reform and Political Environment: An Empirical Analysis Employing Public Comment Procedure Data

Friday, 28 February 2014, 4 PM c.t.

Goethe University Frankfurt, Westend Campus, Room RuW 1.115
(Faculty of Law and Faculty of Economics Building 1st floor)

The presentation will look into the politics of corporate law reform in Japan by analyzing data from the public comment procedure. This allows to understand the mechanism of the corporate law reform process, particularly the relative political power of various interest groups.

Hatsuru Morita is associate professor at Tohoku University, Sendai, specializing in corporate and commercial law as well as law & economics and empirical legal studies.

No prior registration is required.
